

Why Altura?

Achieving client success by delivering market-leading solutions, service and support

THE ALTURA ADVANTAGE

Altura Communication Solutions has offices nationwide and is one of Avaya's largest authorized Diamond Business Partners, a Cisco Select Business Partner, and a leading provider of communication-enabled solutions and managed services. For nearly two decades, enterprises nationwide have trusted Altura with solving their business issues.

In today's fast-changing communications environment, Altura helps customers every step of the way. Our top-rated managed services, combined with key strategic partnerships across a full suite of converged voice, video, wireless, and data network solutions, provides the highest business value to our customers. Altura offers a wide range of network services and support including consultation, design, integration, and management.

INDUSTRY'S BEST TEAM

Altura's number one asset is our outstanding service-oriented team. This includes field engineers, technicians, network consultants, and project managers. Our technical staff, many with over 20 years of industry experience, are certified across all our product lines and up-to-date on the latest technology trends. Altura strives to be within 35 miles of our customers' locations for speed of service and responsiveness.

SERVICE YOU CAN DEPEND ON

Headquartered in Fullerton, CA, with sales and service offices located throughout the United States, Altura has a reputation for developing long-term, loyal customer relationships, and for solving each client's unique business challenges.

Altura supports more than 10,000 communication systems and 2,500 customers in government, education, healthcare, financial and other vertical markets. We're proud to have ranked again as a top "Solution Provider 500" by Computer Reseller News (CRN).
